

One paper in the home is worth a dozen in the by-way. THE DEMOCRAT IS THE HOME PAPER OF Mercer County.

SWANK, NOTED VAN WERT MAN

Will Make Chief Address at Big Sunday-School Picnic in This City on Glorious Fourth.

Arrangements are being completed for the annual County Sunday-school picnic and Fourth of July celebration in this city two weeks hence.

The celebration this year promises to be bigger than ever before, and a good day's program has already been arranged, with plenty of band music and an address by Rev. Jesse Swank, of Van Wert.

Prices will be offered for the largest percentage of school children represented in the line of march. The parade this year will be all foot, instead of horse drawn floats as heretofore.

The Celina band has been engaged to furnish music for the day and will lead the big parade in the morning. L. B. Humphrey, superintendent of the Evangelical Sunday-school of this city, has been chosen marshal of the parade. He will be assisted by Wm. Rottger, L. R. Snively and H. J. Beougher.

The program arranged is as follows: Parade at 10:30 a.m.

Dinner at 11:30 a.m.

Program at the Mercelina Park auditorium at 12:30 p.m.

Music by the Celina Band

Song, "America".....Audience Invocation.....Rev. L. V. Myton Song, "Star Spangled Banner".....Audience Address.....Rev. Jesse Swank

Music by the Band

After the close of this part of the program a good ball game will be played between Mendon and the Young Men's Bible Class team of this city.

EIGHTY-FIVE PATTERSON GRADUATES GIVEN SAGE ADVICE

The annual commencement of the County Patterson graduates was held at the High school auditorium last Saturday afternoon. The eighty-five graduates and their hosts of friends packed the big hall to its capacity. The program, which was a very good one, opened with music by the Zander orchestra.

Prof. S. Cotterman, of Rockford, president of the Board of County School Examiners, presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker for the occasion, Prof. Wm. McVance, superintendent of the Delaware schools, who gave a very excellent class address.

An Overland runabout, the property of Clerk W. O. Borman, of Coldwater, was badly damaged by fire last Saturday evening. Mr. Borman, while in this city drove to the Celina Auto Company's garage to get gasoline, and as the tank was being filled, the gasoline in some manner, presumably by heat from the muffler, took fire. The fire department was called, but the flames had done about $200 worth of damage before being extinguished. Walter Olinhausen, an employee of the garage, who was filling the tank had his right hand and arm burned.

Bunched News Paragraphs

Unknown tramp who shot Mrs. August Erke, near Fowler, Ill., was killed by Deputy Sheriff McNay.

Cholera is making alarming progress among the Bulgarian troops stationed at various points in Macedonia.

Hayes Deal, 30, of Columbus, held at Newark, O., on white slavery charge, was freed by the testimony of the woman in the case.

Thomas Lowmyer, a big Irish miner, from the Franklin mine, defended himself against and defeated 20 Italian miners in a race riot at Helltown, Mich.

Rudolph Berger, tenor of the Royal opera, Vienna, is hurrying across the ocean to marry Mme. Marie Rappold of the Metropolitan Opera company, New York.

Two men dead and property damage of $30,000 was the result of an explosion in the plant of the Dupont Powder company at Fair Chance, near Uniontown, Pa.

At Minneapolis, Minn., Frank Kinski, ladderman, was killed and several other firemen were badly hurt in a fire which completely destroyed the $350,000 North high school.

The Morgan county (Ohio) fair has been called off this year because of the bad condition of the fair grounds, due to the flood.

Mrs. Mary Bryan, southern literary woman, died at one time the recipient of a salary of $25,000 a year, died at her home in Clarkston, Ga.

Official report says that 98 were killed and 200 injured by the earthquake which totally destroyed the town of Timovo, Bulgaria.

Montella Watha, colored, one of the Newark (O.) lynchings, was one of 19 prisoners paroled from the penitentiary by the board of administration.

Frank Nanzani is dead and several other foreigners were injured in a battle along a Chicago & Erie station en route from Westminster to Lima, O.

President Wilson nominated to be ambassador to Italy Thomas Nelson Page of Virginia; to be minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A. Stovall of Georgia.

Senate committee on territories ordered a favorable report on the bill to appropriate $40,000,000 for the construction, equipment and operation of a railroad in Alaska.

Loading of the old whaler Karluk, which is to carry Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson's exploring expedition into the Arctic, was completed, and the Karluk sailed for the north from Victoria, B. C. Nome, Alaska, will be the first port of call.

Earthquake shocks did much damage in Bulgaria and other Balkan states.

The entire federal "civil rights" act of 1875, imposing criminal penalties for discriminating against negroes, was declared void by the United States supreme court.

After shooting and killing James Ginn, a railroad conductor, Dennis Shaw, a negro passenger, was himself shot to death by a white passenger, near Columbus, Miss.

Near Kerns 30, a school director, was shot and killed at Shenandoah, Pa., by John J. Barnes, 40, a carpenter. Barnes alleges Kerns was unduly intimate with his wife.

At Williamson, W. Va., Miss Helen Kains, 17, is in a critical condition, due to three bullet wounds inflicted by Mrs. Doek Wood, it is alleged. Jealousy is given as the motive.

Surgeons at a Philadelphia hospital refused to operate upon John Michael, who stands 6 feet 7 inches and is but 15 years old. His parents fear that he is growing too fast from the effects of a tumor at the base of the brain.

Sixty French soldiers were killed and hundreds wounded as a result of three days' fighting with natives in Morocco.

James Sebring of Metamora, O., died at Bloomington, Ill., of injuries received in an automobile race at El Paso. His neck was broken.

THE CELINA DEMOCRAT

Established Mar. 9, 1895.

Entered at the Celina, Ohio, post-office as second-class mail matter.

C. C. Carlin, Publisher

Celina, Ohio, June 20, 1913

Volume 18, Number 10

JEWELRY PARTNERSHIP OLINHAUSEN & SMITH IS DISSOLVED

The well known Main street jewelry firm of Olinhausen & Smith dissolved business yesterday. Mr. Olinhausen taking over the interests of his partner, Mr. Olinhausen conducted the business himself for many years up until ten years ago, when he sold a half interest to Mr. Smith, and his again assuming the responsibilities of the whole business will be no new thing to him.

Mr. Olinhausen has a well established name here as a jeweler and optician, and will no doubt continue to receive his share of the patronage in this line of business in the pretty little city of Celina and the prosperous county of Mercer.

Mr. Smith has purchased a jewelry business at Mt. Gilead, this state, and with his family will leave immediately to take charge of his new venture.

COMMISSIONERS

The Board meeting last Friday on the Humphrey dith received the engineer's report on the estimated cost and expense of the improvement. The Board then adjourned the further hearing on the matter until June 20 at 1 p.m.

Common Pleas Judge Mathers having made perpetual an injunction against the proceedings on the Baumgardner pike, the Board dismissed the improvement.

Further hearing on the Cummins road was adjourned until June 20.

Dennis Dwyer, Peter Shane, Jacob Kridler, George Vandenberg and John Muhlenkamp filed appeal bonds of $500 each on the Bear branch ditch improvement.

The engineer reported the sale of the work of the Ransbottom bridge approaches to Wm. Miller for $124, and same was approved. The estimated cost of the work was $162.50.

The road commissioners of the Griffith Free Turnpike last Saturday filed their report of the probable cost of the improvement. The report was in favor of the establishment of the road. No claims for damage were filed and the commissioners thereupon estimated the cost of the improvement at $39,180, divided as follows: Grading and ditching, $1,600; stone or gravel, $21,600; pike commissioner fees, $600; engineer's fees and interest on bonds, $15,380.

In the matter of the proposition for an outlet in Angazule county for the Mille Creek joint ditch, the Angazule board failed to notify the joint board as to their acceptance or rejection of the proposition, the matter was further adjourned until June 23.

The following bills were allowed last Friday:

Brookville Bridge Co., full pay on Kincaid bridge contract.....$553 70
Dora Putman, county's portion cleaning out Dyer ditch.....48 00
Henry Reier, lighting Wabash bridge, on county line.....5 00
Philip Linn, scrubbing courthouse.....6 00
H. C. Morrison, memorial day expense D. Graves Post G.A.R.....25 00
E. M. Baugher, temporary bridge.....10 50
Barrett Bros., blanks.....49 40
Noah Fry, painting bridges.....41 40
Dr. F. E. Ayers, fees jail visit.....4 50
Johnson & Wagon Co., books.....25 50
D. R. Smalley, engineer fees.....44 75

WHIP CURRENCY BILL INTO SHAPE

President, Cabinet and Congressional Leaders in Accord—Original Draft Revised.

Number of Reserve Board Representatives To Be Appointed by the President Is Increased, While Number of Federal Bank Representatives Is Cut Down—Measure Likely To Be Launched Monday.

Washington, June 19.—After further conferences on the currency bill, President Wilson and his cabinet members and the administration leaders in congress find themselves in substantial agreement on the principal features of the measure.

This bill is the one which was agreed upon by the president, his advisers and members of the banking and currency commissions in congress a day or two ago. The president himself now asserts that changes decided upon later at the White House conference related only to matters of minor detail.

One of the changes made in the bill at the suggestion of the president was in regard to the composition of the federal board of control. As printed and originally agreed to the bill provided for the appointment of three members of this board by the president, with the consent of the senate, the election of three by the federal reserve banks and the remaining three were to be ex-officio members, the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of agriculture and the comptroller of the currency.

The change that has been made in the bill is in the direction of giving the president greater power over this federal reserve board which will control the issuing of the new treasury notes to the federal reserve banks.

It is understood that Secretary of State Bryan and others expressed this fear that the plan as originally drawn would give the banks too much power in the federal reserve board. It is believed that the number of representatives to be appointed by the president has been increased and the number to represent the federal reserve banks decreased.

This, however, is merely a matter of detail, and the general principles underlying the bill and the system to be put into effect remain the same.

A slight change also was made in the phraseology of that section of the bill relating to the retirement of 2 per cent bonds now used as a basis of circulation for a national bank currency. It was learned, however, that this change did not affect the general purpose or plan of the bill as originally agreed upon.

Present indications are that the measure will be introduced Monday, and that on the same day Mr. Wilson will deliver in person his message urging the enactment of the measure into law before the current session comes to an end.

URGENT TO ORATE AT CHAUTAUQUA

The patrons of the Celina Chautauqua are looking forward to the appearance of Father Nugent with a great deal of pleasant anticipation. When such men as Governor Larrabee, of Iowa, declare his lecture one of the greatest he has ever heard, when the great Brooklyn Eagle comments on the brilliancy of the address as compared with the best in the metropolis and when the Chicago papers report a triumph in that city before great crowds, we may feel assured that we may confidently expect something really splendid in which we are told the eloquent orator does not always find it possible to exclude his delicious celtic humor which prevails all his work, even the most serious such as his famous lecture on the Philosophy of Civilization.

Father Nugent is a physical and mental giant, and best of all has a warmth of heart which at once wins his audience, which his eloquence and brilliancy of word picture later completely captivates. He will be looked forward to afternoons of August 3 with pleasure.

MERCELINA PARK THEATER BEGINNING TO CAPTURE AMUSEMENT LOVERS

Despite the threatening weather, the Purple Players Co. showed to a big house last night at the Mercelina Park Theater. To-night the company will produce "Brother vs. Brother," and Saturday night "Down on the Farm."

Moving pictures are included in the evenings' performances, and a good line of vaudeville between acts. The Park Theater programs are proving very popular these warm evenings.

LATE ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller are the proud parents of a baby girl born last Sunday.

Charles Seibert and wife, of Hopewell township, are the proud parents of a baby girl, born last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hauck, West Logan street, are the happy parents of a baby boy born last Sunday.

Miss Jessie Staeger, who for the past couple of years has been teaching in a Home Mission school in the West, visited a week with her parents, and then went to Oxford, where she graduated yesterday from the University at that place. She will return home to-day, accompanied by her sisters, Misses Florence and Ellen who are also attending the University at Oxford, to spend their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Staeger.

AIRSHIPS IN THE NAVY

The advance in the art of flying and the improvements made in airships during the last few years have demonstrated that aeroplanes will play an important part in the warfare of the future. Our own navy, as well as the navies of other countries, is constantly experimenting with flying machines, and on another page this week you will find a very interesting story of the progress made in this direction, entitled "Aeroplanes in the Navy." Launching an aeroplane from a battleship, heretofore quite a problem, is one of the things which has been satisfactorily solved described in this article.

NEW LAW OF INTEREST TO THE PUBLIC

The new Ohio law for the sale of produce by weight, instead of measure, became effective yesterday. Under its provisions ninety-two articles must be sold by weight if they are not sold by measure, or in sealed packages.

Of these 92 articles 31 have a standard weight per bushel. If the dealer sought to ignore the weight and sold a half peck of Irish potatoes the customer could test the sale as half a peck of Irish potatoes must weigh seven and a half pounds. He couldn't do so if he bought a half peck of parsnips, as there is no standard bushel weight for parsnips. This list of pounds in a bushel of commodities which must be sold by weight will be handy reference: Corn in ear, 68; wheat, Irish potatoes, beans, peas, hominy, peas, cabbage, cauliflower, endive, lettuce, spinach, sauer kraut, bran, sweet corn in ear, shelled sweet corn, dried sweet corn, shelled popcorn, blue grass seed, canary seed, cottonseed, castor oil, bean, pine tree products and vegetable oils, onion sets, orchard grass seed, rape seed, redtop seed, English walnuts, black walnuts, hickory nuts, Brazil nuts, pecans, almonds, filberts, ice, salt, sugar, tea, coffee, bulk spices, cheese, butter, margarine, lard, fresh and salt meats, fish, game, fowls, flour, cornmeal, hopped feed, pepper in bulk, candy in bulk.

LOCAL BANK GETS COUNTY BOND ISSUES

The four issues of five-per-cent Mercer County bonds, aggregating $35,500, offered by the commissioners, were sold yesterday afternoon to the Commercial Bank Co. of this city, at their bid of par. The only other bidder was the Spitzer & Rorick Co. of Toledo.

Twelve thousand dollars of the bonds are for the improvement of the Buck ditch; $12,000 for the Belmont road improvement; $5,000 for the Alt road improvement, and $6,500 for the Ford road improvement.

CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICE SUNDAY

An interesting program has been arranged for the children's day service at the Celina Lutheran Church next Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30. It is as follows:

Organ prelude.
Song—Holy, holy, holy!
Opening service.
Recitation—Paula Gilcher.
Song—Blessed Savior.
Recitation—Herbert Gilcher.
Song by beginners—Pretty Flowers.
Recitations—Ruth Hoenic, Marcella Reitz, Paul Junod, Esther Diener.
Song—Ye Servants of God.
Recitations—Alma Nichol and Ernest Gilcher.
Dialogue—Pauline Merckle, Arnold Junod, Gladys Ellerman, Oscar Weissman, Helen Wyssong, Roland Siebert.
Chorus of voices—Go Ye Into All the World.
Recitations—Marie Siebert, Malissa Meserve, Harold Siebert.
Song—Tell It Out Among the Heathen.
Recitations—Lorena Betzel, Mable Nichols, Ralph Deitch.
Solo—Samuel and Esther Diener.
Recitations—Ralph Reitz, Mary Meserve.
Song—Mighty Lord, Extend Thy Empire.
Recitations—Esther Hoenic, Esther Rock.
Song—Hear the Pennies Dropping.
Recitation—Lora Junod.
Song—Jesus Shall Reign.
Offering for missions. Closing service.

YOUNG LAD BADLY INJURED WHILE BATHING

Emil Weisman, the 14-year-old son of the late Mr. Weisman, suffered an injury last Monday evening that nearly proved fatal. Young Weisman, with a number of companions, was bathing in the reservoir, and was swimming toward a raft, from which the boys were diving when he struck a nail which extended from the frame work. The rusty wire penetrated the lad's right breast, piercing the lung. His companions helped him home and Dr. Ayers was called and dressed the wound. The nail only penetrated the lung slightly and the physician feels the wound will not be serious unless gangrene sets in, which is not regarded as probable.

E. W. Fuller, who for some time has been conducting the Eagle Theater on West Market street, sold his show, last Monday to Chas. H. Hinkle of this city, who assumed immediate charge. Fuller left town immediately after the transaction, but left a number of unpaid claims here as a reminder of his short stay in the city.

The suit of S. A. Bollenbacher et al. vs. C. O. Foreman, an action for dissolution of a partnership in the oil business in Blackrock township, which was assigned for hearing last Wednesday, but could not be heard because of other court matters, has been re-assigned for next Friday, the 27th.

Miss Elizabeth Hedrick, of Ft. Recovery, was in town Wednesday on her way to Hartwell, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hedrick, and on Monday will go Oxford, where she will take up a teacher's course of study.

TO INCLUDE MEAT AND ITS PRODUCTS

President Orders Extension of the Pure Food and Drug Act—Effect Far-Reaching.

Department of Agriculture Will Have Full Jurisdiction Over All Meat and Meat Products in Interstate Commerce, With Power to Seize and Destroy—Blow at Unwholesome Meat.

Washington, June 18.—A long step toward insuring pure and wholesome meat and meat food products has been taken by the Wilson administration. The action consisted in the extension by executive order of the pure food and drug act so as to include meat and its food products.

This was accomplished through the revocation of an executive regulation which has exempted these items from the operation of the food and drug act since it became a law.

The extension of the government's activities under the act is the most radical and far-reaching yet made. Hereafter the department of agriculture will have full jurisdiction over meat and meat products which have entered into interstate commerce, with the right to seize and destroy. For the first time, manufacturers of meat foods will be required to comply with the food and drug act as well as the meat inspection law. It will be possible for the government inspectors to seize meat in both retail and wholesale markets which may be unwholesome.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Officials of the department of agriculture say the revocation of the regulation will have a far-reaching effect and may in particular banish from the market many potted meat delicacies which would pass muster under the meat inspection law, but which may not be able to meet the requirements of the pure food and drug act.

The secretary of agriculture has appointed a committee to adopt and carry into effect suitable regulations for the extension of the scope of the government's activities. Heretofore, after meat has passed out of the packing house, the government has had no jurisdiction over it. Now, if it becomes the subject of interstate commerce, the government will have the right not only to follow it and seize it, but to prosecute those responsible for its being adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome.

Ice-Cream Social

An ice-cream social will be given by the young people of State Line Lutheran Church to be held at James Pennig's residence, one mile north of State Line Church, Saturday evening, June